NUCLEUS FOR MUSEUM.

Virginia Exhibit to be Brought Back for Preservation Here.

Back for Preservation Here.

Commissioner of Agriculture Kolner will leave-the latter part of this month for St. Louis to be present at the close of the exposition and to direct the reshipment to this State of the Vignia exhibit. This splendid index to the State's products of all kinds will be preserved as the nucleus of a museum to be established and annitatined in one of the Etate buildings. The mineral, lish, forestry and game and the excellent agricultural exhibit will be displayed to visitors for years to come. Such another exhibit was never collected, and it will prove of great value in directing the attention of visitors to the natural resources of the Commonwealth. The agriculture exhibit won the great variety for its excellence and the great variety for products shown. No other State displayed such a range of agricultural products as Virginia.

The exposition will close December 1st, and the exhibits will all be removed as soon as arrangements for their transportation can be made. This will be no easy task in the great rush of exhibitors to remove their goods and wares.

FUNERAL OF MR. ALLAN.

Simple Service in Washington, Attended by G. A. R. Veterans.

The Washington Post of Monday printed the following notice of the obsequies of Mr. Edgar Allam, whose death occurred here on Friday:

The body of Mr. Edgar Allam was borne to the grand Army of the Breville and infinite friends. The first services, which were held at the 1 terestednee of the deceased, in this city, No. 1991 Eleventh Street, Northwest, were simple, according to the expressed wish of the deceased before his self-inflicted death at Richmond, Va. Friday. Only his widow, two daughters, and the son, Edgar Alian, Jr., were present, in addition to members of the Grand Army and prominent men of Richmond.

The sermon was preached by Rev. Charles Wingbigler, pastor of the First Baptist Church. The combined Grand Army posts of the city attended the services. The deceased was a member of the First Posts of the Charles The deceased was a member of the Rany Post of Richmond. The

An appeal to the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia has been granted in the case of John Kloss vs. the Commonwealth, from the Corporation Court of Fredericksburg. The case involves the construction of the law requiring peddirs to pay a license tax, and incidentally what constitutes peddling within the meaning of the statute. Kloss is a traveling salesman for A. T. Chalkley, a broom manufacturer of Manchester. He was arrested at Fredericksburg and charged with peddling brooms. He cistmed that he was a salesman solling by sample, but was nevertheless fined $100. From this judgment #3 appealed.

their inning in the campaign last night, when Judge Sam W. Williams, of Wythe, addressed a large company of voters in Sanger Hall.

Ward Superintendent Minitree Folkes presided, and among the prominent Democrats on the stage were Mayor Mc-Carthy, Congressman Lamb, Alderman Zimmermann, Hon. L. T. Christian, Messrs, Robert Lee Traylor, R. L. Montague, Chalrman Doherty and the members of the City Committee from the ward.

Senator Sears, the first speaker, in biting words attacked the imperialistic policy of the Republican party, and re-ferred to President Roosevelt as a "despoiler of the ideals of our fathers. He compared the President to "another Cromwell,", and warned the people against the danger of empire, which he contended was threatening to undermine Republican institutions in this country. The speaker declared that the paramount issue in the contest was "the President of the United States," and when incidentally, he mentioned Bryan and "that great tribune of the people," one of the most enthusiastic demonstrations of the evening was given.

"There was a time," the speaker said, when merit won in this country, and when there were no spoiled durings of our government." He compared the President to "anothe

And now he went after the Republicans on account of the persecution of Admiral Schley, evoking long continued applause from his hearers. The President was charged with undertaking to inaugurate and promote social equality, and the speaker asserted that the policy of the chief magistrate was doing much to hinder the settlement of the race problem. The President's Panama canal policy was denounced as "plainly in violation of all law, and infamous in the extreme," and in this connection Mr. Roosevelt was referred to as "the little war lord with his big stick." Republicans Preach Prosperity and Commend President Roosevelt.

LEWIS PRAISES MR. BRYAN

Says Former Leader Was an Honest Man-Parker's Views Unknown.

Prosperity was the keynote of a well attended open air mass meeting held by the Republicans of this city in a vacant lot on the south side of Broad Street, between Henry and Belvidere Street, last night. For more than two hours and a half a crowd that probably exceeded three hundred persons, a minority of wilm were negroes, stood in the chil November air and applauded well known speakers, who eulogized Roosevelt and protection and ridiculed Democracy, its candidates and policies.

The speakers of the evening were Mr. Roy E. Cabell, elector for the Third District; Mr. George A. Hanson, candidate for Congress; Mr. John M. Ryall, labor leader, and Hon. L. L. Lews. United States district autorney, Assistant Postmaster L. Grubbs, Republican city chairman, introduced the speakers. On the stand were Postmaster Wray T. Knight, Mr. Bentile, of Manchester; Mr. L. O. Davis, of Powhatan; Mr. Joseph D. Bredy and others.

Knight, Mr. Bestile, of Manchester; Mr. J., O. Davis, of Powhattan; Mr. Joseph P. Brady and others. Iardella's band interspersed the speeches with music. Mr. Catell was the first speaker. He made an excellent impression, judging by the applause which greeted him. Mr. Hanson, candidate for Congress, was the next presented, and spoke for half an hour. Mr. Hanson is a focularly carnest in his appeal to the voters to think for themselves. He challenged my man to give a reason why he was one before him, and it was in this connection called upon his hearers to think for themselves.

Not on the Stump Often.

Hon. Lewis has seldem appeared upon the stump, and he was given the closest attention last night. As had been expected, he made a dignified address, and indulged in no personalities or unkind and indiscriminate criticism of Democrats. He declared that the result of the presidential election was already as well assured as the sun would rise on the morrow. Judge Lewis referred to McKinley as "the immortal McKinley," and eulogized Mr. Roosevelt as a man, a citizen and a President. He defended the Underwood Constitution and claimed for the Republican party through this the Underwood Constitution and claimed for the Republican party through this Constitution the establishment of the common school system. The speaker was especially vigorous in his criticism of Judge Parker, whose views, he said, were unknown, and he detailed at some length the circumstances of his nomination, charging that he was nominated because his views were unknown. The speaker was very sincere in his tribute to William J. Bryan as a man, and did not indulge in abuse of Parker, merely characterizing his as a mn of coloriess views and unfitted for the presidency.

SENATOR MARTIN CANNOT ATTEND

Finds It Impossible to Speak at Academy Meeting-Great Crowd Expected.

Richmond has barely missed closing the Richmond has barely missed closing the campaignt this year with one of the greatest Democratic rallies in her recent history, and it is the source or wavespread regret among party men here, that one of the speakers, whose presence would have contributed to the life and enthusiasm of Saturday night's meeting, finds it impossible to accept, the invitation of the city Democratic Committee to aftend.

Some weeks ago, Governor Montague

Some weeks ago, Governor Montagne and Hon, Harry St. George Tucket were invited to address the closing rally to be held at the Academy of Music on Sat-urday night. A few days ago, Mr. Tuck-er informed. Chairman Doberty that other engagements would prevent his presence, and the chairman and his Ex-ceutive Committee begun looking around for another speaker of prominence to ap-pear with His Excellency. After talk-ing the matter over, it was decided to invite Senator Martin, and, accordingly, an urgent invitation was sent him, with the request to "wire answer." Yester-day the disappointing news came from the junior senator that it would be imday the disappointing news came from the junior senator that it would be impossible for him to be in ittenment on the occasion mentioned. If it had gone abroad that the Governor and gehalter Martin would appear upon the same plotform, there is hardly a building in Richmond of sufficient proportions to hold the crowd, so strikingly are they both in the public eye at this time.

All arrangements have now been made for the Academy meeting. A band will be on hand, and ladies as well as gentlemen are expected to attend.

HUNTING SEASON OPENS.

Many Gunners Were Abroad in the Land Yesterday.

the Land Yesterday.

The open season for shooting partridges, quall; pacasants, grouse, woodcock and turkeys in the section cast of the Bio Ridge Mountains began yesterday and will continue until February 1st, 1995. West of the Blue Ridge Mountains the reason opens to-day and closes January 1st, a month earlier than in the territory cast of the Blue Ridge. It's a violat on of the law to trap or net these game birds at any time, or to destroy their nests, eggs or young at any time.

An army of sportsmen and gunners who are not true sportsmen will soon but in the fields driving the partridges to the shelter of the thickets or the farm houses, where they find protection. The desultory firing of the gunners will be heard in almost every county of the Stute as soon as a killing frost has sufficiently destroyed the weeds and foliage and shrubbery to enable the dogs successfully to seen the birds. Many will not wait for this. This is also the season of dog stealing. Small boys and big men, too, who have no pointer or setter broken to hunting smell be on the war-path soon for dogs with which to locate the much-sought game birds.

The longer closed season is believed to have resulted in an increase in the game birds.

The longer closed season is believed to have resulted in an increase in the number of birds and the attainment of their full growth. The season formerly opened October ist, but was deferred for the protection of the birds from extinction.
